

INSIDE

While time is passing by I just can't help but wonder why
So many people seem to need somebody else to be
If you want to be released from all your daily tragedies
Why don't you take a look inside?

If you feel the need to cry 'cause rainy thoughts are passing by Release all of your tears and forget about your fears
Breathe all of your troubles away
As you take a look inside

You've got to be strong in your mind
And trust in your soul if you want to find
There's no need to be so afraid of who you are
It wouldn't hurt you to go back to yourself
And for a change try to take a look inside
Just take a look inside

When I see you run away from the same things everyday
I wonder what I could do for you
And I know that I can't be the one who's gonna set you free
But believe me, I wish I could

I hope it won't be long before you finally get along
With yourself no matter if you're alone
Cause I think you would like what you'd find if you tried
To take a look inside

You've got to be strong in your mind
And trust in your soul if you want to find
There's no need to be so afraid of who you are
It wouldn't hurt you to go back to yourself
And for a change just try to take a look inside
Just take a look inside

SOLO

You've got to be strong in your mind
And trust in your soul if you want to find
There's no need to be so afraid of who you are
It wouldn't hurt you to go back to yourself
And for a change just try to take a look inside
Just take a look inside
